Next Monday, May 17th, the new church of St. Anne at French Village, which was destroyed by fire recently, but which has been rebuilt and beautifully furnished, will be dedicated. The ceremony will be performed by the Most Rev. Archbishop Glennon, assisted by a large number of clergy. New stained glass windows were placed and a beautiful High Altar, a gift of one of the parishioners, was put in position this week. A large vestry was added to the church and many other improvements made. After the dedication, the Solemn High Mass will be sung, and then Confirmation will be administered to a large class of children. At the same time the parish will celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of its foundation. It was founded by the Rev. Father Pratte, then pastor of Ste. Genevieve, and called Petit Canada. Its parish records unfortunately were destroyed during the recent fire. The parish was attended to from time to time from Ste. Genevieve, until it built a beautiful stone building in the eighties, and was then given a resident pastor. When a separate parish was started in Lawrenceton, it was administered from that place. The parish has made large preparations for a worthy celebration of this rare event. Rev. Father C. L. van Tournhout, at one time pastor of French Village, will preach the sermon at the centennial and dedication celebration. After the church ceremony, the clergy will be entertained at dinner by the Rev. Pastor.
